

The Last Night Fury

by Astrid Daughter of Zeus

Category: How to Train Your Dragon

Genre: Family

Language: English

Characters: Astrid, Hiccup, OC

Status: In-Progress

Published: 2014-09-21 20:00:21

Updated: 2014-10-04 03:41:40

Packaged: 2016-04-26 21:32:33

Rating: M

Chapters: 2

Words: 514

Publisher: www.fanfiction.net

Summary: Heather is snatched by a Night Fury and never seen again.

1. Chapter 1

The Nightmare Returns

Chapter One.

Wandering around underground Heather stumbles across a strange dragon who covers her in a strange mist and takes off with her in its claws.

''Help!'' Heather cries in dragon speak as the ground gets further and further away from her realizing she is being carried to the dragon's nest she screams in terror and starts struggling in her captors claws breaking free as she plummets to the ground. ''No!'' Heather shouts as she hits the ground hard the impact knocking her out completely.

_The dragon turns and dives picking her up and flying away to it's nest where it lays her down trying to wake her up and failing every time it tries to revive her and turn her into a dragon permanently. Heather wakes up to the dragons relief as it starts to transform her into a dragon and completes the transformation by preventing her way out and reaching her parents. ''I'm a dragon!?''' ''No!'' Heather cries in disbelief as the truth that she's now a dragon dawns on her and she starts rampaging trying to escape from the underground cave where she's trapped. Quickly Astrid flies up out of the underground nesting caves heading back to Berk with the dragon following trying and failing to reclaim his prize that is Heather the beautiful heir to Berk's throne. Heather would always attract attention from young sons of chiefs from neighbouring tribes believing themselves to be perfect suitors for the future Chieftainess of Berk. Little did they know Heather was taken by a dragon who had selected her as his mate.

'Charlie!' Heather shouted trying to get her mate's attention but he was too far away to hear her cries for him._

2. Chapter 2

The Last Night Fury.

Prologue.

That fateful night a Night Fury enters the Haddock house and snatches a sleeping Heather up in its claws taking off and flying into the night with its prize. Heather struggles against her captors grip as the Night Fury flies away from her home leaving Berk to fade into the distance as the dragon dives and enters a cave system leading to the Bewilderbeast's nest as the Night Fury lands pushing her towards the King of the Dragons. Heather respectfully bows to the great King who transforms her into the last Night Fury to ever exist.

Chapter One.

Heather's P.O.V

Dipping and diving Heather enjoys her new life as the last Night Fury. She decides to visit Berk and her parents one final time before the Night Fury fades from existence. Flying toward Berk the villagers scream in terror as she approaches her home. She runs up to her parents house flinging the door open to find them standing there with an axe and sword in their hands. Her long flowing dark brown hair shines as she knocks their weapons away and hugs them just as they realize the Night Fury standing above them is their daughter. They hug in tearful relief to see that their daughter is alive and well.

End
file.